WEEKLY ACTIVITIES AND STATUS REPORT FOR THE DD/ICS--5 March 1985

CIPC Organizational Activities

- Redrafting of the Cruise Missile follow-up report has been completed. In essence the report notes that significant progress has been made with regard to our intelligence posture, however, there are still areas requiring attention, particularly intelligence on Cruise Missile R&D and Arms Control. In addition, the report notes that 89 percent of the 43 recommendations have been effected or are in the process of being implemented.
- 25X1 - Arrangements have been made for [ ] to review and comment on the report on 5 March.
- The Cruise Missile Working Group will convene at 1430 on 6 March to review and comment.
- Subsequently, we will update as appropriate and forward to you and the CIPC members for review and approval.
- We now have a condensed version of the Terrorism Study along with a detailed version. However, neither are acceptable, but Charlie Allen did like the condensed version. Over the next week we will be redrafting the Terrorism Study; as we did with the Cruise Missile Report.
- We are in the process of ascertaining the best date for a CIPC Meeting in March. At present, the agenda will include the Cruise Missile and Combat Intelligence Reports. Depending upon the fullness of the agenda, I will have [ ] prepared to give a brief overview on the progress of the Mobile Missile Study.
- 25X1 ● Personnel:
  - NSA Staffing - to date at least three potential candidates have been identified.
  - 25X1 - [ ]
  - 25X1 - [ ]
  - 25X1 - [ ] reported to PBS on 4 March, however, we will continue to utilize his services until the Cruise Missile Follow-up Report activities have been completed.

CBW Intelligence Subcommittee: [REDACTED]

25X1

- The 14th and final formal meeting of the CIPC CBW Intelligence Subcommittee was held on 4 March. [REDACTED]

25X1

[REDACTED]. CIA participated as observers and not as active participants of the subcommittee. This decision apparently was made as a response to the DCI's memorandum, which disapproved the subcommittee's establishment.

Combat Intelligence Analysis: [REDACTED]

- George met with the task force on 26 February to review the final working draft paper for the Chairman, CIPC. The task force was reasonably satisfied that the paper accurately and honestly reflected its views. It was forwarded to you on 1 March 1985.

25X1

Narcotics Intelligence: [REDACTED]

25X1

- On 28 February, George prepared a short memorandum for [REDACTED] A/NIO/Narcotics, on the background of the NNBIS recommendations included in the addendum to the CIPC Narcotics Study, attached.

Terrorism Activities:

25X1

- [ ] visited several of the Community counterterrorism elements in connection with his task as Chairman of the IICT's Subcommittee on Collection Management. His initial impressions are that the same problems prevail in this arena as in certain other functional intelligence areas: the system is excessively formal; analysts try to avoid it and requirements are consequently not well stated. Instead, analysts come to rely on informal connections or simply develop a passive attitude and work only with what shows up in their in-box. Jim is scheduled to present his preliminary findings to a group of counterterrorist specialists meeting in [ ] on 14, 15 March.

Miscellaneous:

- The NIO/East Asia has reviewed the first draft of the Memorandum to Holders of the Warning of War in Korea NIE. He has requested additional graphics be developed, and one or two more paragraphs added. Beyond that, he seemed well satisfied with the content.
